

LEGACY INSTITUTE

P.O. Box 575, Monrovia, California 91016

www.legacyinstitute.org

mail@legacyinstitute.org

Our Jawk Tiang brethren so very blessed to keep the Feast in their own building on church property.

Chiang Mai visiting brethren, Legacy teachers, and students, on Last Great Day at the Empress Hotel.

Dear Friends and Fellow Laborers,

14 October 2015

The Feast of Tabernacles is over and it is back to the grind for all of us. God gives us a very small taste of the future and it remains only a shadow of what is to come.

Three times a year God tells us to gather together before Him. The spring convocations remind us that Jesus Christ died for us so we do not have to die. His sacrifice opens the door for all mankind to obtain eternal life. Unleavened Bread shows that we must follow-up and do our part by getting sin out of our lives. Jesus' sacrificial life is only the beginning of our journey to eternal life. Seven days shows that we are to completely get sin out and live sinless lives.

The Pentecost convocation reminds us that Jesus continues to work through the power of the active Holy Spirit given to those who have already accepted Him as Savior and King, through the power of the active Holy Spirit given to us. The Bible tells us that many are called, but few are chosen (Matthew 22: 14). During this "Church Age," only a few are chosen to serve Jesus in the thousand-year millennial rule of the Kingdom of God. The Church is judged NOW (1 Peter 4:17), while others will be judged after the second, or general, resurrection (Revelation 20:11-12), following the millennial rule of Jesus.

The fall feasts show us the events of the “Day of the Lord,” when Jesus returns to judge the nations and set up the Kingdom of God. The eighth day shows us the coming time of the second resurrection and the advent of the New Jerusalem, when God will dwell with His people on the earth (Rev. 3:12; 21:2-3).

Htoo Mya Shwe above is helping out Seng Aung with sermons during the Feast. He is also waiting for Visa instructions in order to finish his schooling at Legacy in Chiang Mai.

approximately 38 attend services held each day. In Jawk Tang, Burma, we had over 40 in attendance each day, with 65 attending on the eighth day. These numbers include both adults and children.

So God gives us an outline of His plan, which He then has us rehearse with Him three times a year. There are some Churches of God and other Sabbatarian groups that do not observe the commanded annual assemblies. That is their loss. God has us come together for these feast days for a reason. If we do not keep the “Feasts of the Lord,” we cannot understand His plan of salvation for all mankind.

The world is deceived into thinking the plan is to go to heaven, while the REAL plan is for God to come down and live with us on the earth! It is sad that the world is fooled by Satan into believing a lie that is the exact opposite of the truth.

The Feast went well in both Thailand and Myanmar (Burma). In Chiang Mai, Thailand, we had

L.to R.: Legacy teacher Julia Stewart and her family—Hayden, mother Jean, Ian (also Legacy teacher), Grandpa Larry Cleveland, Scott Stewart

Grandma Carolyn
Cleveland

L.to R.: MeetNyeh looking up scripture; Legacy grad HserNeyPaw in Jawk Tiang, a leader in taking notes (this was never done before in services.)

Local boatman at the helm.

ChiangMai! This is the normal transportation mode in rainy season in Burma; so the more exciting for western guests on bamboo raft w/out motor. L.to R.: Ian, Hayden, Cassie McQuiod, Chantelle West, and Caleb Breidenphal Ctr. Legacy grad NeyBloohtoo also now living in JawkTiang is another example to all the many young children.

guest & Doi Boo

In Chiang Mai, we had the traditional elephant ride, visit to a silk factory, and trip to see the Sai Nampeung Orchid Farm.

L.to R.: Gloria Sexton; third-year Legacy student HtooGay with his parents NawBleePaw & U.AungSein (both were able to come out of the Refugee Camp for the entire Feast.)

SengAung & SengPan's baby NawNaw in foreground; 3 of NawSee's children, BlawBlaw, Blessing & NawnYaw

In Myanmar, the Feast-goers got to visit a waterfall and—besides the spiritual food provided by Seng Aung and Htoo Mya Shwe every day—feasted, feasted, and feasted some more on the abundant physical food provided. The Feasts of God are the only time they can eat their fill of meats and other special foods. The children had an exciting treat of a “hamburger night” with traditional American hamburgers including lettuce, tomatoes, pickles, and mayonnaise.

We want to thank all of you who donated so generously to allow the Karen people and Legacy students in Chiang Mai, and the brethren with their families in Burma, to enjoy the Feast of Tabernacles and worship together before God. May God bless you for your kindness to brethren less fortunate.

L.to R.: Karen lady, NawSee (mother of four); Burma sisters, NueyNueyAeh and MoeTay

During a part of worship services, the children learn Bible memory, games, and songs at Sabbath/Feast School

Hayden Stewart avoiding wet trunk-kiss, or perhaps Hayden has bananas?

Homemade HAMBURGERS in Jawk Tiang!

NawJuneHey, wife of original
Pastor SawHtooSaw of Jawk
Tiang brethren before his passing

Sorah (son of Seng
Aung & Seng Pan)

Jaw Min Twey

Nawn Yaw

MaHtaNoot with Burmese green tea

L.to R.: Special music by EhEh
and NawnYaw

“...feasted, feasted, and feasted some more on the abundant physical food...”

Chantelle West
singing *How Great
Thou Art* for special music

Cassie McQuoid does Thai Umbrella Dance at Talent Night

Caleb and Leon Sexton sings
To Love Somebody
at Talent Night

David Hemphill
from southern
Thailand at Opening
Night with his wife,

Fun Hemphill.

THAI PALACE ENGLISH LANGUAGE PROJECT AT LEGACY

Before the Feast, Gloria and our Legacy volunteer teacher Julia Stewart traveled to Bangkok to meet with Palace officials and four girls who are now at Legacy attending an intensive English language training program.

L.to R. Tanphuying (TPY/Lady) Aurajitra, TPY Supornpen, Gloria, Julia, TPY Pharani, Supamas (daughter of TPY Aurajitra)
They met at Queen Sirikit's Royal SUPPORT Foundation Museum at the Ananta Samakom Throne Hall near Chitralada Palace. The palace sent us four young university graduates to attend an intensive English language training project designed and developed by Julia.

L.to R.: First day of arrival at Legacy with graduate AhJar, Wanwisa, Kannika, Raththagam, Sirikan

These young ladies are being trained as tour guides at the Queen's Museum and need to better develop their English language skills to explain the projects of the Queen to foreign visitors. English is the common international language and the museum now receives thousands of visitors per year. It displays the many different exquisite handicraft items produced by the poor of Thailand who have been trained at one of the Queen's Royal SUPPORT Foundation training centers. There are many truly beautiful and intricate works of art in gold, silver, carved teak, woven silks, embroidery, and many other items that demonstrate the effectiveness of the Queen's training projects.

Many of these skills were dying out and becoming lost arts. The Queen was able to find the few remaining elderly artisans whom she brought to the palace and had them train a new generation in many nearly extinct skills.

We are happy to help the Queen in ways that are beneficial to her important projects. And it is great to have someone like Julia Stewart aboard to help ramrod our intensive English program.

&&&&

We hope all of you had a spiritually rewarding Feast of Tabernacles and are now able to be spiritually rejuvenated until the spring holy days.

Pray for us all here. We had a young man in the hospital with Dengue Fever. He is out now and recovering his strength.

Please remember us as we continue to serve Our Lord Jesus in this remote part of the world. The Bible tells us not to despise the day of small things (Zechariah 4:10). We cannot know where this small work of Jesus in Thailand and Burma will lead. But we do know that Jesus will lead us.

Gloria and I plan to visit Burma for the spring Holy Days. Please remember our brethren there. The work is growing. As I said, we had 65 attend on the eighth day of the Feast in Burma. If you have any extra second tithe, please help us in financing the Passover and spring holy days in Jawk Taing, Burma, next year.

Until next letter . . .

In His Most Holy and Precious Name,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "T. Leon Sexton".

T. Leon Sexton

© Legacy Institute 2015